BIG STORES MUST KEEP "OFF GRASS," SAYS STREET INSPECTOR

Marshall Field's, Mandel's and Carson-Pirie's Called Land Thieves—Hogging Public Sidewalk Space —Other Land Grabbers Have Given In.

The swellest stores on State street—Marshall Field's, Mandel's and Carson-Pirie's—will have their names written in court records as thieves of public land unless they cut their buildings to fit the property they own. This was the slap handed out today by Stephen J. Fisher, chief street inspector.

The Chicago Tribune is one of the land grabbers that has already bowed to the orders of the street department and office of Wm. Burkhardt, comm'r of public works, to give back sidewalk used illegally.

A dozen other loop buildings must be remodeled immediately unless the owners want to stand a suit from the city which will nail them as grabbers of the people's land if they are
